DR. HOOKER'S PEACHTREE HOME ON FIRE

U. S. DEPARTING TO LEAVE

Suffragists Enter Auto Parade

LITTLE HOPE OF SAVING STRUCTURE

Whole Interior of Big Peachtree House Ablaze and Firemen Fight It With Difficulty.

Fire threatened the destruction of a small residence of Dr. J. Hooker, No. 215 Peachtree street, yesterday.

The alarm was turned in at 2:15 and the entire fire-fighting force of the central part of the city was on the scene within a few minutes.

The interior of the building was ablaze and it appeared likely that the house would be completely gutted.

Because of its stone construction, however, the flames found the greatest difficulty in reaching the frame with walls of water.

The flames at first were confined entirely to the interior of the house and the smoke poured out of the windows and doors at intervals of people.

Parade Preparations Are Complete For Floral Pageant Tuesday—Exhibition Amazes Visitors.

The parade Tuesday will rival the famous San Jacinto celebration of San Antonio, which is said to be the greatest floral exhibition in the world. It will be the biggest feature of the Auto Show this year.

Exhibition Is Amazing.

With improvements on the already splendid exhibition in evidence, the patrons who entered the auditorium Monday morning stood amazed at the extent and impressiveness of the exhibition.

Sunday being an off day, so to speak, the exhibitors arranged their exhibits more artistically and many new attractions were added to the hundreds already there.

Every booth at the show is a charge of an expert from the factory of the car he represents. All of the 1914 models are on exhibition. Many new motor inventions and a queer flying machine are also to be seen.

One of the new motorcycle taxicabs, a French invention which has cut the price of taxi fares in half in France, is expected to be on exhibition. The car is attached to a motorcycle and can be driven by one or two persons on wheels. The whole affair has but three wheels and burns no more gasoline than a motorcycle.

Until the arrival of the famous Sousa band, Charles A. Sisson, the noted Atlanta organist who has pleased thousands of people with his concert will render select programs at the late afternoon and evening shows.

John Philip Sousa and his band will arrive in Atlanta Tuesday morning, but will be unable to play in the parade, as their instruments can be unpacked in time. However, Sousa and his men will ride in the parade. In fact, it will lead it, just to let the Atlantans know he has reached here.

"King Cotton" Again.

Music for the parade will be furnished by the 10th Regiment Band. "King Cotton," the composition of Sousa which was played for the first time at what is now Piedmont Park at the Cotton States Exposition last year, will be heard again. It will be played by Sousa Tuesday afternoon, and will be sung by Miss Virginia Ross, recently engaged by Sousa for the auto show engagement.

"From Atlanta to Oregon," a stirring patriotic air with a military swing, accompanied by expressions of sympathy for the cause of prohibition in the Legislature, when he was a member, was one of the speakers of the afternoon. He declared the liquor law violations in Atlanta are notorious and appalling.

"These violations," he said, "are accompanied by expressions of sympathy for the cause of prohibition in the Legislature, when he was a member, was one of the speakers of the afternoon. He declared the liquor law violations in Atlanta are notorious and appalling."

CLUBS MUST CLOSE, SAY 'DRYS'

Leading prohibition workers in Atlanta declared Monday that it would be a matter of only a short time before the city's near-by saloons would be wiped out and the locker clubs would cease their flagrant violation of the law or suffer the same fate.

Committee Named at Sunday Mass Meeting to Wage Fight.

A committee of 25 members was appointed at a "law enforcement committee" to employ attorneys and make cases against liquor sellers, adult injunctions and employ all legal procedure necessary in breaking up the illegal liquor traffic.

A committee of 25 members was appointed at a "law enforcement committee" to employ attorneys and make cases against liquor sellers, adult injunctions and employ all legal procedure necessary in breaking up the illegal liquor traffic.

More than a thousand persons were at the meeting. The resolutions were adopted with enthusiasm and it was decided to launch the campaign at once and not to rest until the issue is decided.

The committee of 25 will make formal appeal immediately to the authorities in an effort to close up the near-by saloons and locker clubs.

The speakers at the mass meeting declared the beer saloons are existing and conducting their business in open violation of the law, and that practically every locker club in the city is paying no more than superficial attention to the statutes.

The committee members will be quartered with the war against the liquor sellers will be unremitting and determined.

Dubois Predicts Victory.

"We are confident of victory," said Dr. H. M. Dubois Monday. Dr. Dubois presented at Sunday's meeting and made one of the addresses. "There were more than a thousand persons here," he continued, "and every one of them was anxious to witness the downfall of the liquor interests who have damned lives of our young men and young women long enough."

The campaign is on today. There will be no resting until the law-breaking near-by saloons and locker clubs are driven out of Atlanta and out of our State. We will not admit the possibility of defeat. When a determined band of citizens get together with a good purpose in view, they can not be stopped by any lawless element that ever existed.

"Every near-by saloon is going to be wiped out of Atlanta. That is my prediction. The law is being conducted now as they are being conducted now."

There is no question about that. No one attempts seriously to say that the law is being conducted now as they are being conducted now."

WAR PREPARATIONS RUSHED BY MEXICO; FINAL BREAK NEAR

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 10.—Diplomatic relations between the United States and Mexico are no near the breaking point that arrangements are being made for Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy and Special Envoy John Lind to leave the country.

When the American embassy is closed its affairs will be turned over to the Norwegian minister. It was at first understood that Admiral Von Hintze, the German minister, would act for the United States here, but the admiral pointed out that Norway's interest in Mexico were much smaller than those of Germany, and it would be better for the last named country's representative to assume no more responsibilities.

War preparations are being rushed by the Mexican Government with all possible speed. General Huerta is still playing for time and is likely to delay for some time his formal reply to the United States demand that he retire from office.

The statement issued to the diplomatic corps here, however, leaves no further doubt as to his attitude. It is within the bounds of possibility that he will never answer the United States demand that he retire from office.

Woman Who Took Life, Fearing Asylum, To Be Buried To-day

The body of Miss Lelia Reed, who committed suicide by driving rather than be confined in an asylum, was taken to a funeral home for funeral and burial Monday.

The disappearance of Miss Reed from the home of her brother-in-law, 2, 3, on the Howell Mill road, Saturday night, was a mystery. Her melancholy disposition, accused of some serious mental trouble, had been a source of anxiety to her family.

Search parties were started, but it was not until Sunday morning, a member of the missing woman, was passing the city water reservoir on the Howell Mill road that the mystery was cleared. He recognized her body floating in the water.

Witnesses at the coroner's inquest revealed that when she learned that her plans were being made to put her in a sanatorium she threatened to end her life. The verdict was suicide.

This time he will spend in Virginia. He has been in Virginia for a week and will go to his winter home at Miami, Fla.

KIMBALL IN BANKRUPTCY U. S. TROOPS MOVING TO MEXICAN BORDER

Fire Damages Hopkins Art Treasures

RECEIVED BY ASKED BY LOUGEE

Famous Hostelry Owes $38,562
for Rents Due for Past Three Months.

The Kimball House, one of the most famous hotels in the South, the gathering place of Georgia's political leaders in days gone by, failed Monday morning and George A. Lougee, its owner, asked Judge Newman to appoint a receiver.

A meeting of the creditors, chief among them is John W. Grant, of the H. I. Kimball Company, owners of the insurance structure, was held in the morning to determine the future of the hostelry. Every effort will be made to continue its operation.

Mr. Lougee, in his petition in bankruptcy, sets his assets at $15,000, and his liabilities at $38,562. The claim being $13,200 for rent for the months of September, October and November due the H. I. Kimball House Company, Mr. Grant.

The Atlanta Journal Grant is also one of the creditors. She is owed $100 for rent.

Asks for Receiver.
A supplementary petition, Mr. Lougee asks for the appointment of a receiver to take possession of the hostelry and to continue its operation.

Most of the creditors are out of the supply men, but there is one who has a local bank for $14,000. It is said that there is represented Kimball.

The Kimball has been facing a crisis for some time. The influx of new hotels had cut into its business, although it still held the affection of a good many Georgia folk—particularly in politics.

Famous Political Spot.
The Kimball House is one of Atlanta's famous landmarks, and is known wherever Southern politicians, especially Georgians, gather. Officers have been made and unmade in its lobbies and rooms, and legislative measures have been first seen in the day of its life.

For years it has been the headquarters of virtually every candidate who has ever made a State-wide fight for office. It is time of greatest prosperity in the history of the sessions of the Legislature, when almost all of the members of the Senate and the House inscribe their names on its register and make it their headquarters.

The building was erected in the late twenties by H. I. Kimball and is now owned by the H. I. Kimball Hotel Company. John W. Grant has the management of the property. It covers almost an entire block, with entrances on Decatur, Peachtree, North Pryor and Wall streets. The building was destroyed by fire in 1912, but was rebuilt and opened for operation immediately.

Train Cuts Off His Legs as Boy Picks Up Coal on Wintry Day

Picking up coal on the railroad tracks near the Jefferson street crossing, Virgil Bakerman, 14 years old, was run over by a switch engine Monday. Both legs were cut off near the knees. He was taken to the Grady Hospital, where it is said he can not survive the shock.

A 9-year-old brother faints here by the name Virgil under the engine's wheels.

Virgil and his brother had gone to the tracks to pick up coal which they sold to neighbors living near by, at No. 118 Julian street. His tempestuous career had taught him the dangers that lurk around the railroad tracks but he had become accustomed to them, and was not careful.

Several times he had run away from his father, E. K. Bakerman. Last Monday he ran away and was gone for two months.

This morning he told his father he was coming home and was going to a mill to get some work. The little brother, 9 years old, has worked in the mills for several months.

CLOSE, JUST $15,000 LOSS CLOSE, SAY BY PAZE 'DRYS'

Leading prohibition workers in Atlanta declared Monday that it would be a matter of only a short time before the city's near-beer saloons would be wiped out and the locker clubs would cease their flagrant violation of the law or suffer the same fate.

Those opposed to liquor selling were encouraged by the meeting Monday afternoon in the Grand Theater by the Georgia Anti-Saloon League. Resolutions were adopted calling upon Chief Beavers to run down all near-beer saloons and locker club proprietors who violate the law.

The Grand Jury of Fulton County was asked to take up the matter with a view to indicting violators of the liquor law.

Committee to Wage Fight.
A committee of 15 members was appointed to act as a "law enforcement committee" to employ attorneys and make cases against liquor sellers, obtain injunctions and employ all legal procedure necessary in breaking up the illegal liquor traffic.

More than a thousand persons were at the meeting. The resolutions were adopted with enthusiasm and it was decided to launch the campaign at once and not to rest until the cause is won.

The committee of 15 will make formal appeal immediately to the authorities in an effort to close down the near-beer saloons and locker clubs. The speakers at the mass meeting declared the beer saloons are existing and conducting their business in open violation of the law, and that practically every locker club in the city is paying no more than superficial attention to the statutes.

The committee members say no quarter will be given; that the war against the liquor sellers will be relentless and determined.

DuBois Predicts Victory.
"We are confident of victory," said Dr. H. M. DuBois Monday. Dr. DuBois presided at Sunday's meeting and made one of the addresses.

"There were more than a thousand persons here," he continued, "and every one of them was anxious to witness the downfall of the liquor interest who have damned the lives of our young men and young women enough."

"The campaign is on today. There will be no meeting of the law-breaking near-beer saloons and locker clubs are driven out of Atlanta and out of our State. We will not admit the possibility of defeat. No one attempts seriously to say that they are not. Why, then, should we stand idly by and let them continue in their evil ways?"

Says Violation is Appalling.
Houston Alexander, one of the most valiant fighters for the cause of prohibition in the Legislature, when he was a member, was one of the speakers of the afternoon. He declared the liquor law violations in Atlanta are atrocious and appalling.

"These violations," he said, "are accompanied by expressions of ridicule and defiance on one hand and are constantly receiving with deplorable indifference on the part of the authorities."

Jessie Wilson's Wedding Brings Sister a Suitor

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Society is much interested in a report that another romance may spring out of the wedding of Miss Jessie Wilson to Francis B. Sayre. Physician Happy, However, When
He Rescues Editorial Page
From Sunday American.

From the fire that swept through the second floor of his handsome home at No. 215 Peachtree street Monday morning, Dr. H. B. Hopkins saved the editorial page of The Sunday American, while about $10,000 worth of paintings, manuscripts, curios and books were burned or ruined by smoke and water.

"I was reading a wonderful editorial by Brisbane," said Dr. Hopkins, when the blaze finally was under control. "The last sentence was underlined, and it was a marvellous piece of work. I was downstairs at breakfast, and the first impulse I had when I rushed up to my living room was to get that editorial that I hadn't finished reading. I got it."

The fire started at 10 o'clock in Dr. Hopkins' living room on the second floor, presumably from the grate of Dr. Hopkins at breakfast.

Dr. Hopkins was at breakfast served by Wesley Bell, the famous chef who had won words of praise from Theodore Roosevelt and other well known public men by his culinary skill. Mrs. Hopkins was in New York with her son, Russell, and Dr. Hopkins, having returned here to Atlanta three weeks ago, was keeping bachelor's quarters in his $20,000 establishment.

It was Dr. Hopkins himself who first noted the clouds of smoke issuing from the upper windows of the house, with a perceptible odor descending to the lower floor where he was breakfasting.

A life ran upstairs and found the flames already spreading from the living room to his bedroom, and everything obscured by a thick smoke.

"I got the Brisbane editorial," Dr. Hopkins repeated with some pride, relating the adventure, "but my pictures and manuscripts are burned or ruined—an inestimable loss to me."

There was one picture of Russell, when he was 4 years old—the actual value of it was $1,000, but figures can not express what that picture meant to me.

Manuscripts Not Replaceable.
Twenty-five or 30 other paintings and engravings also were destroyed. I had just moved them in there last Thursday from other parts of the house. And my manuscripts of a number of volumes, books that have cost me years of labor—they were burned, too. And they are absolutely not replaceable."

There were the curious and brilliant—bravo, all my pet fancies collected abroad. I couldn't put any real estimate on my loss. If I should say $10,000 it might just as well be $20,000 or $30,000. But I saved that editorial. Here it is."

The damage to the house itself was not so great. The living room, bedroom and bathroom of Dr. Hopkins, with some devastation in the attic on the next floor above. The celebrated "Landscape" on the lower floor was not injured, and the other part of the house suffered only slightly by smoke and water.

Dr. Hopkins exhibited it with some pride.

DEFIANCE OF HURT REACHES WILSON

American Diplomats Prepare to Leave Mexico City—Hurt
Hurries War Plans.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—General Huerta's statement to the diplomatic corps in Mexico City declaring he will remain in office until new elections are held was received by the State Department to-day from Charge O'Shaughnessy, the American representative in Mexico City. Secretary of State Bryan declined to give out the statement here, but he admitted that it was "correctly stated in the press dispatches."

As carried by the press dispatches from Mexico City, Huerta's statement is a direct defiance of the United States demand that he resign.

United States troops are moving toward the Mexican border to-day. They are sent ostensibly for border patrol duty, but it is expected even by the most optimistic Government officials that they will see duty in Mexico before they return.

At the War Department it was stated that the Fifteenth Cavalry, which is scheduled to relieve the Fifth Cavalry at Fort Bliss, left Fort Myer, Va., Fort Leavenworth and Chicago for Texas this morning and is expected to report at Fort Bliss by Friday at the latest.

Making Adequate Force.
The War Department officials are making special stress on the statement that this movement was planned a month ago and that it "has nothing to do with possible intervention." It was admitted that the main reason for the transfer of the Fifteenth Cavalry is to give the United States a force adequate for intervention in Northern Mexico if it is decided to take any step.

It has been announced that the Fifteenth Cavalry, which started to-day and the Tenth Cavalry, new at Fort Ethan Allen, Vt., are to relieve the Second and Fifth Cavalry at Fort Bliss, Texas, and Huachuca, Arizona.

It is known, however, that this "relief" will not take place for some time—in other words, that the Second and Fifth will not start northward until it is certain that they will not be needed for service south of the border.

Meanwhile, the troops which are supposed to bring three regiments to New York City will be put, provisionally and equipped, at Galveston, Texas, where they can be shifted either to carry troops at Vera Cruz or to send them to New York.

Admits Situation Grave.
President Wilson admitted to call on at the White House to-day (and the Mexican situation is grave. His immediate action is expected from his administration, however.

The President neither has written a message to Congress on Mexican affairs nor has any present intention of writing one, he told his callers. General Huerta has not refused to be vigorous request for his resignation, and the United States has not stated any time limit on this reply.

The opinion prevails here that the United States is sounding the Shoupian power on the question of shipping the embargo on arms to the Carranza forces. Great Britain, Germany and France, it is understood, have opposed this move because of the heavy financial loss that would be brought upon its citizens in Mexico through the seizure of the Constitutional Convention.

MORE SOLDIERS ARE SENT TO BORDER.

Defy of Huerta Is Forwarded to President Wilson by O'Shaughnessy.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—General Huerta's statement to the diplomatic corps in Mexico City declaring he will remain in office until new elections are held was received by the State Department today from Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy, the American representative in Mexico City.

Secretary of State Bryan declined to give out the statement here, but admitted that it was "correctly stated in the press dispatches."

As carried by the press dispatches from Mexico City, Huerta's statement is a direct defiance of the United States demand that he resign.

United States troops are moving toward the Mexican border today. They are sent ostensibly for border patrol duty, but it is expected even by the most optimistic Government officials that they will see duty in Mexico before they return.

At the War Department, it was stated that the Fifth Cavalry, which is scheduled to relieve the Fifth Cavalry at Fort Bliss, left Fort Myer, Va., for Laredo, Tex., and Chicago for Texas this morning and is expected to report at Fort Bliss by Friday at the latest.

Making Adequate Force.
While War Department officials said active steps on the statement, and this statement was planned a month ago and that it "has nothing to do with possible intervention," it admitted that the main reason for the transfer of the Fifth Cavalry was to give the United States a force adequate for intervention in Northern Mexico if it is decided to take this step.

It has been announced that the Fifth Cavalry, which started today, and the Tenth Cavalry, now at Fort Richardson, Ala., are to relieve the Second and Fifth Cavalry at Fort Bliss, Texas, and Huachuca, Arizona.

It is known, however, that this "relief" will not take place for some time. In other words, that the Second and Fifth will start northward until it is certain that they will not be needed for service south of the border.

Meanwhile, the transports which are supposed to bring these regiments to New York City will be provisionally equipped and armed, at Galveston, Texas, where they can be utilized either to carry troops to Vera Cruz or to sail down to New York.

Alms Situation Grave.
President Wilson advised his cabinet at the White House today that the Mexican situation is grave. No immediate action is expected from the administration, however.

U. S. Diplomats Ready to Leave.
MEXICO CITY, Nov. 10.—Diplomatic relations between the United States and Mexico are so near the breaking point that arrangements are being made for Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy and Special Envoy John Lind to leave the country.

When the American Embassy in Mexico City was informed that the United States would not support the German Minister, would not support the United States, but the United States pointed out that Germany's interest in Mexico was much smaller than that of the United States. The United States representative to assume no more responsibility.

War preparations are being rushed at the Mexican Government. It is possible speed General Huerta is still playing for time and is likely to delay for some time the formal reply to the United States demand that he retire from office.

Europe to Insist on Guarantees From U. S.
Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. PARIS, Nov. 10.—Only explicit guarantees from the United States Government will secure the support of the European powers for any policy which President Wilson may adopt toward Mexico. It was announced semi-officially here today.

8,000 Federals March on Torreon.
NOBUKAWA, AGR., Nov. 10.—Eight thousand Mexican Federals are marching on Torreon, which was captured by Mexican constitutionalists. A battle is expected there within a week.

The government troops have been ordered to give no quarter in the case of the massacre of Federals when Torreon was captured by insurgents.

New Hotels Demanded.
The failure of the management of the Kimball House, which is one of the best known hotels in the South, has led to the demand for new hotels in Atlanta for many years, come to a head that it is necessary to have the opening of new hotels there.

There are reports that even additional hotels will be built. In view of the meeting of the Imperial Council of the South, and the many other conventions now being held in Atlanta, it is a most opportune season.

Park Is Now Both Congressman and Superior Judge

A commission has been made out to the Executive Department and will be forwarded to Judge Frank Park, of Georgia, naming him Congressman from the Second District, to succeed Andrew H. Bordenberry, deceased, notwithstanding the fact that the Executive Department has not yet received Judge Park's resignation as presiding magistrate in the Albany circuit of the Superior Court.

It has been stated, but not officially, that Judge Park likely will not resign the judicial position, but will accept the commission, and will be sworn in as Congressman.

The failure of Judge Park to resign, however, would be a most unusual occurrence, and would be a great loss to the judiciary.

$15,000 IS LOST IN HOPKINS' HOME FIRE

From the fire that swept through the second floor of his handsome home at No. 225 Peachtree street Monday morning, Dr. J. H. Hopkins saved the editorial page of "The Sunday American," while about $15,000 worth of paintings, manuscripts, curios and bric-a-brac, were burned or ruined by smoke and water.

"I was reading a wonderful editorial by Brisbane," said Dr. Hopkins when the blaze finally was under control. "The last dance it was called, and I was a nervous piece of work. I was downstairs at breakfast, and the first impulse I had when I rushed up to my living room and was met by a wave of smoke, was to get that editorial that I had been reading. I got it, too."

The fire started about 10 o'clock in the morning, and spread rapidly to the second floor, presumably from the grate in the living room.

party still. Mrs. Hopkins was in New York, with her son, Russell, and Dr. Hopkins, having motored back to Atlanta three weeks ago, was leaving his quarters in his $500,000 establishment.

It was Dr. Hopkins himself who first noted the clouds of smoke issuing from the upper windows of the house, with its perceptible odor descending to the lower floor where he was breakfasting.

He ran upstairs and found the flames already spreading from the living room to his bedroom, and everything obscured by a thick smoke. "I got the Brisbane editorial," Dr. Hopkins repeated with some pride, relating the adventure, "but my pictures and manuscripts are burned or ruined—an incalculable loss to me. There was one picture of Russell when he was 4 years old—the actual value of it was $1,000, but figures can not express what that picture meant to me."

Manuscripts Not Replaceable.
"Twenty-five or 30 other paintings and engravings also were destroyed. I had just moved them in there last Thursday from other parts of the house. And my manuscripts of a number of volumes, books that have cost me years of labor—they were burned, too. And they are absolutely not replaceable."

GOETHALS READY TO ABANDON CANAL JOB

Great Engineer Refuses To Be Football Kicked Around by Politicians.

By WILLIAM HOSTER.
Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.
PANAMA, Nov. 8.—Colonel Goethals has definitely fixed upon March 1st as the time of his final departure from the isthmus of Panama. He leaves less than five months for the completion of the canal, reorganizes the working force and establish the operation of the great waterway. His far but determination, has been influenced by the attitude of the administration at Washington. He has left to conjecture by Colonel Goethals. He had hoped to run the canal a year after its completion, but the pressure of President Ford two years ago has said he expected to finish it early in 1914 and would play with it a year to get it in perfect condition before turning it over to the government.

Eager to Get Away.
Interference. Complications have hampered his work and he is now eager to get away as soon as possible. The importance of his determination is quite as soon as possible.

By March the canal will be practically completed and he hopes to be demonstrated by that time the canal is open to shipping.

Two years ago he began making legislation for the permanent organization of the Canal Government and succeeded in getting the Adams act passed. For the last six months he has been urging Washington to issue orders authorizing him to go ahead with the permanent organization of the operating force. Nothing has been done during those six months in which he could have been doing operative and the opportunity of having his personal supervision has been wasted.

With the canal nearing completion, his policy is based on an early departure to the passage of dreadnoughts, but he is not inclined to force to handle them in untrained hands. His position can be fought with great damage.

Refuses To Be Football.
However, Secretary's proposition for a three-headed commission to govern the Canal Zone has further complicated matters and upset all Colonel Goethals' carefully matured plans. The great engineer is maintaining a dignified silence, but the correspondence on his activity that he feels keenly the position into which he has been forced and will refuse to be made a puppet by the politicians.

Colonel Goethals is unalterably opposed to the three-headed commission and it can be said positively, he will not serve on such a commission where the Canal Zone is concerned. He will not accept divided responsibility.

The post of chief engineer of the canal, which has been suggested as a reward to Colonel Goethals, has no attraction for him. He probably will retire from the Canal Zone for some time after the present office in New York City.

That the American people have taken into consideration that under present trend of affairs, the Canal Zone is to be lost for the first and most critical year of the completed canal.

Goethals Slated For New York Police Head.

GOLD SPELL WILL LINGER FEW DAYS

Lowest Mark of Year, 25 Degrees, Reached Monday—Sun Fails to Warm Atlanta.

Continued cold and high winds made the bright sunshine of Monday almost a barren hope for lovers of the warm Indian summer and winter golf. The weather bureau reported the mercury at 25 at 10 o'clock, recording the morning as the coldest of the year. Though indications are that the temperature will rise during the day and the skies remain clear, unusually cold is expected to linger.

The cold wave struck Atlanta Saturday night and the biting wind and the furries of snow all day yesterday caused most Atlantans to declare they were glad it was Sunday. The streets were more deserted than they have been any day this fall, and the churches and Sunday schools far a slump in attendance. Sunday golfers were scarce as scarce as smug birds. Everyone who could make good by the fire at home.

At 2 o'clock Monday morning the thermometer registered as low as 25, it was well below freezing when the army of workers started downtown, but they were not surprised to find an absence of heat in the street cars. The writer came down on Avenue A and several wits on street cars every winter should be pardoned because of the severity of the Georgia Railway and Power Company.

Europeans know that the cold wave is pretty general over the South Atlantic States. Frost was reported as far down as the Georgia-Florida line last night. Tampa was cut off from communication with the northern world because of damage to wires. Savannah, Charleston and Jacksonville had high winds and unusually low temperatures, but little damage was reported from these cities.

PICK ADAMSON TO LEAD FIGHT ON TAMMANY

Former Atlantian Urged to Direct Organization of New York Democracy.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Robert Adamson, the former Atlantian who managed the Fusion campaign so successfully, has been agreed upon as the leader in the movement to reorganize the Democracy of New York City. He has not yet decided what part he will play in the revolt against Tammany.

He is going away for a time to think things over and decide just what he will do in the fight with the Federal forces in Washington and the anti-Tammany forces in New York City are planning.

Murphy and his lieutenants are making time. Murphy hopes to hold on until next year, and during the fight between Republicans and Progressives to elect his State ticket, and strengthen his grip on the local organization.

Colonel E. M. House, one of President Wilson's closest friends and a supporter of Mitchell for Mayor, looks to the elimination of Tammany as a factor in local politics by 1916.

The question is not one of dealing with Murphy as leader of Tammany, for at Tammany under him he has done well.

The only question is one of a complete reorganization of the system of party government. Murphy has had no Van Wyck or Devery, but his system and his viewpoint are entirely new, and the mere changing of the name of the leader will not improve conditions.

There will be changes in the face and there will be changes in the methods. Direct primaries and a short ballot have been successful in the West and are bound to come in this State in the near future and the sooner we realize that the better."

Little Facts and Fancies About Well-Known Atlantans.

Fred House, secretary of the Atlanta Convention Bureau, is known as the "Perpetual Smiler," but somebody crossed the smile from his face last week, for a few moments at least. Fred thinks he has the 1914 convention of the American Road Congress tied up in a sack and delivered, and he is correspondingly happy, because the convention is a big thing. J. P. Penningbacker and Charles P. Light came to Atlanta last Friday and Saturday, and House was busy showing them the sights and expatiating upon the advantages of Atlanta, how the convention would not be a success unless it were held here etc. He slipped away from them for a few moments to do some work at his office, and a friend entered.

"I understand that Penningbacker and Light have just announced that the convention goes to New Orleans," stated the friend, pleasantly.

"Huh!" exploded House. He stopped smiling, jammed his hat down over his ears and fairly flew to the Piedmont. He didn't smile once during the four blocks. An hour later, it is said, he was looking for his friend with one of those smiles that pirates wear.

W. H. White, president of the White Provision Company, is losing a lot of sleep because he made a solemn vow to attend the "Georgia Products Day" dinner at the Auditorium on the 15th decked out in Georgia-made clothing from head to foot. He got his clothing, and then some well-meaning friend asked him if the cloth had been woven in Georgia. Investigation developed that it had not, and the suit went into the discard. Another one was procured, and White had sent mounting letters all the while that colored the suit was made somewhere else. COLD SPELL TO
LINGER: WHOLE
SOUTH FROSTY

Lowest Mark of Year, 26 Degrees, Reached Monday—Sun Fails to Warm Atlanta.

Continued cold and high winds made the bitter sunshine of Monday almost a forlorn hope for lovers of the warm Atlanta summer and winter golf. The Weather Bureau reported the mercury at 20 at 9 o'clock, recording the morning as the coldest of the year. Though indications are that the temperature will rise during the day and the winter remain clear, unusually cold is expected to linger.

The cold wave struck Atlanta Saturday night and the biting wind and the gusts of snow all day yesterday caused most Atlantans to despair they were glad it was Sunday. The streets were more deserted than they have been any day this fall, and the churches and Sunday schools felt a slump in attendance. Sunday golfers were almost as scarce as snuff at the store.

At 2 o'clock Monday morning the thermometer registered as low as 25. It was well below freezing when the army of workers started down town, but they were not surprised to find all absence of heat in the street cars. Several wires on the car that the street came down on agreed that the street should be pardoned because of the poverty of the Georgia Railway and Power Company.

Dispatches show that the cold wave is pretty general over the South Atlantic States. Frost was reported as far down as the Georgia-Florida line. Late last night Tampa was cut off from communication with the rest of the world because of damage to the cable. Savannah, Charleston and Jacksonville had high winds and unusually low temperatures, but little snow was reported from these cities.

Lakes Whipped by Fierce Blizzard.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Several hundred thousand dollars' damage was reported today from points along Lake Michigan which were just recovering from the effects of the worst storm in years.

In Chicago more than 1,000,000 loaves of bread were spoiled. The storm struck along the north shore, where thousands of small boats were wrecked upon the shore or battered together until they went to pieces. At Milwaukee the new $500,000 municipal breakwater, which was to have been a part of the new million-dollar harbor project, was washed away.

Many cities between Chicago and New York were cut off from communication with this city today. Detroit was isolated by the complete demoralization of telegraph and telephone wires.

Another blizzard is forming in the Canadian Northwest preparing to cross the United States before the end of this week. It will be of better proportions than the last storm, the weather prophets say.

Foot of Snow in Pittsburgh. PITTSBURGH, PA., Nov. 16.—With many twelve inches of snow on the ground and drifts three feet high in many places the blizzard which began yesterday is still raging to-day. The November weather record, extending back to 1870, shows that the coldest day of high winds in the city was Nov. 16, 1893. The temperature sank to 24 degrees.

Every Southern State Is Represented at Annual Session—Dr. McArthur Speaks.

With delegates from every Southern State in attendance, the Christian and Missionary Alliance is in annual session in Atlanta Monday. The Rev. William T. McArthur, of New York, preached the opening sermon on the subject of "Faith." At the evening service he delivered another address, on "Sinning." Both sermons were powerful ones and drew upon the need of faith in God for the use of complete victory. Through all the ages in good deed having grace of faith, the world was built on faith and through faith it must exist. And upon the realization of something of the faith of man in God, his Father, does the entire Christian belief hinge.

The alliance holds daily meetings, beginning at 9:30 o'clock, Monday morning. Special services will be held at 10:30 and 11:30 o'clock, Monday morning. The Rev. Charles H. Kierulff, who has a missionary charge in the Tennessee mountains, will deliver the address Monday morning.

A meeting will be held in the office of Ulysses Lewis in the Temple Court Building Monday afternoon by the executive committee of the alliance for the purpose of considering the financial questions.

"Forward march!" Should the Georgia National Guard answer the stirring call to arms and be sent across the yellow old Rio Grande against the Mexican forces, they will be accompanied by some of the fairest girls of Atlanta, who will render care for the sick and wounded.

Stirred to patriotic fervor by the reports of outrages against the border and believing that both the regulars and the Georgia boys will be untried, many Atlanta girls are interesting themselves in the situation. Many have already volunteered to go to the front as nurses.

Miss Pauline Brooks, of No. 49 Crew street, was one of the first to announce her intention of offering her country her services, if the lines of the American border boys are endangered.

Miss Brooks said: "If our boys are willing to fight and perhaps die for their country, surely we ought to do something to render them whatever aid we can. There is but little a girl can do but nurse the wounded and that is, the best way to help."

The American girls who are always so efficient, should be ready in case of emergency. If we are needed they will be ready to report orders.

It is very likely that a corps of volunteer nurses will be organized in Atlanta in a few days.

Bryan Plans Broad Pact With Denmark

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Work on the presentation of a new "peace treaty," because that is just consummated by the United States, has been commencing by Secretary of State Bryan and members of the Spanish legation.

Denmark has submitted a treaty similar to the one now binding Denmark on the one hand and the United States on the other. This will bind both countries to submit all questions, whether or not their common national life is at stake, to arbitration.

Colonel E. M. House, one of President Wilson's closest friends and a supporter of Mifflin for Mayor, looks to the elimination of Tammany as a factor in local politics by 1916. The year of the next national campaign Colonel House is reported to be planning for a big Democratic organization in every borough, which will ignore entirely all of the Tammany rules.

All talk of simply driving Murphy out of office is futile, said Adamson yesterday. "The question is not one of dealing with Murphy as leader of the Tammany party, but of dealing with him as a man who has done well."

There will be changes in the party and there will be changes in the methods. Direct primaries and a short ballot have been successful in the West and are bound to come in this city in the near future, and the sooner we realize that the better."

Comfort and Safety Assured Before the Arrival of the Storm.

The old saying—that it never rains but it pours—has been proven true in the case of the Atlantic coast. In the wake of the storm which has been so long and so severe, a second storm is now threatening the coast. It is a matter of time before the rain will come, and when it does, it will be a deluge. It is therefore, a matter of time before the people of the Atlantic coast will be in a position to suffer from the effects of the storm. "Huh!" exploded Houser. He stopped smiling, jammed his hat down over his ears and fairly flew during the four blocks. An hour later, it is said, he was looking for his friend with one of those smiles that pirates wear.

W. H. White, president of the White Provision Company, is losing a lot of sleep because he made a solemn vow to attend the "Georgia Products Day" dinner at the Auditorium on the 14th decked out in Georgia-made clothing from head to foot. He got his clothing, and then some well-meaning friend asked him if the cloth had been woven in Georgia. Investigation developed that it had not, and the suit went into the discard. Another one was purchased, his friends said, and then Mr. White found that the buttons were manufactured in New Jersey and that the dye that colored the suit was made by a firm in New York. Mr. White has sent scolding letters all over the place, asking for Georgia-made clothing that fits the bill, for he is determined to keep his word.

There will be changes in the party and there will be changes in the methods. Direct primaries and a short ballot have been successful in the West and are bound to come in this city in the near future, and the sooner we realize that the better."

They were gathered in a rear room at the courthouse Saturday morning—lawyers, clerks and hangers-on discussing the probabilities of the Tech. Auburn game. A stranger, apparently 20-odd years in the wind, was vainly attempting to get a line on the conversation. Suddenly he arose from his chair and revolved to the center of the group.

"I don't know a blankety-blank thing about Auburn or Tech, but I can lick any blankety-blank man who were went to the University of Virginia," he announced with a glare. "He must have attended V. M. I. was the chorus comment."

"Do you know why a honeymoon is called a honeymoon?" inquired "Charlie" Harmon, who has been

"best man" at more weddings than most anybody in Atlanta.

"Well," ventured an innocent bystander, "a 'moon' is a 'month,' and the word 'hymeneal' comes from 'hymen,' a Latin word meaning the 'moon'—wherefore, I suppose—"

"Nothing of the sort," snapped Harmon. "And, seriously now, it was a custom among the old Teutonic tribes to drink of diluted honey for 30 days, at a month's age, after a wedding, and from this custom came the expression of honeymoon. Attilla the Hun drank it, it is said, so freely of hyemmel on his marriage day that he died of suffocation. And that's the origin of the word 'honeymoon.'"

Bryan Plans Broad Pact With Denmark

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Work on the presentation of a new "peace treaty," because that is just consummated by the United States, has been commencing by Secretary of State Bryan and members of the Spanish legation.

Denmark has submitted a treaty similar to the one now binding Denmark on the one hand and the United States on the other. This will bind both countries to submit all questions, whether or not their common national life is at stake, to arbitration.

Joe Rivers Wild to Get With Wolgast

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 4.—According to Promoter Torlight, effort is being made to induce Ad Wolgast, a former professional boxer, to join Joe Rivers in a ten-round bout with Joe Rivers on Thanksgiving Day. Terms of the deal, which is being called "cat" but it is not known whether or not it is, have not been disclosed.

In the event Wolgast declines a fight with Rivers, Torlight says that Charley White of Chicago, who is favored to win, is being offered the fight. Promoter Torlight says the Mexican would careen between the two fighters, and he says Wolgast to meet him.

300 Students May Strike for Football At Trinity College

Louisiana Defeats Arkansas, 12 to 7

SHREVEPORT, LA., Nov. 8.—Louisiana beat Arkansas this afternoon in one of the hardest fought games played on this field in years. 12 to 7. Independence Is the Highest Manifestation of Greatness

 Americans Are Too Ready to Yield to Foreign Opinion. We Lack the High Moral Courage So Notable in Our Forefathers.

The American people should realize that their independence is being steadily undermined. We lack the high moral courage so notable in our forefathers. We do not stand firmly on our own feet. We do not rely sufficiently upon ourselves. We too easily consider our own national interests first. We are too easily deceived, far too often humbugged. We pay too much heed to foreign hectoring, foreign interference, foreign disapproval. We are too fearful of asserting, and therefore less willing to maintain, our rights. We are more inclined to yield our rights when they are assailed by powerful foreign interests to whom we are too ready to concede disinterested motives.

The American people are unconscious of this. They are courageous, high-spirited and patriotic. They are sensitive regarding their national honor and intensely proud of their incomparable national development. Having achieved first place in the galaxy of nations the American people do not wish, either by suggestion or action, to be regarded as unfair or unjust. Holding the United States to be a model nation, the American people strive with might and main to make their national actions accord with their high national ideals.

Straightforward and direct themselves, the American people are less able to cope with the astute methods that by indirection, innuendo, diplomacy, finesse, easily overreach them. Their pride in their country, their desire to see it recognized for what it is, their acute distress when charged with unfairness or dishonest conduct, easily lead them to forego their rights, renounce their interests, within themselves, in their commendable desire to maintain a high and unblemished reputation before the world.

The United States will never achieve true greatness until its people from within decide for themselves questions of right and wrong, uninfluenced by foreign comment and criticism, the astute purpose of which is too often to plausibly unsettle their confidence in themselves and undermine their conscientious rectitude. We are an easy prey to the underhanded methods of others; we mistake foreign bluster for overwrought indignation at what we are too ready to think they believe to be the justice of their contentions, the correctness of their claims, the honesty of their motives. Rather than appear wrong to others we are ready to do wrong—to ourselves.

We shall never succeed by these methods. We do not find other nations so easily influenced, so ready to give up their rights, so ready to wrong themselves for aliens, as we are. They know that in the last analysis they must depend upon themselves, look out for themselves, assert themselves, be themselves; that the moment they depart from these guides and standards they lay themselves open to the covert, the concealed, the underhanded, the indirect attacks of their enemies. We must be determined, positive, clear-thinking and as morally unafraid as we are physically.

The United States is a sovereign, independent nation of honest, God-fearing, proud and ambitious people, but a people, nevertheless, too prone to depend upon others for their standards of action, their guides to conduct, too ready to accept the views of others rather than to assert and maintain their own. We are departing from our ideals just when we are most positive we are reaching toward them. We must lead, not follow.

By being ourselves we assert and we maintain our independence. We owe ourselves, nationally, the duty of serious independence. Independence is the highest manifestation of greatness.

No Mothers in Public Schools?

The public school system of New York City now seems to degrade motherhood and put a premium on IMMORALITY. It is scarcely believable that educated men should be guilty of the indecency of which the public school authorities of that city have been guilty.

The female school teacher is told, "You may marry, but you must not have children."

What shall she do? Shall she be guilty of infanticide?

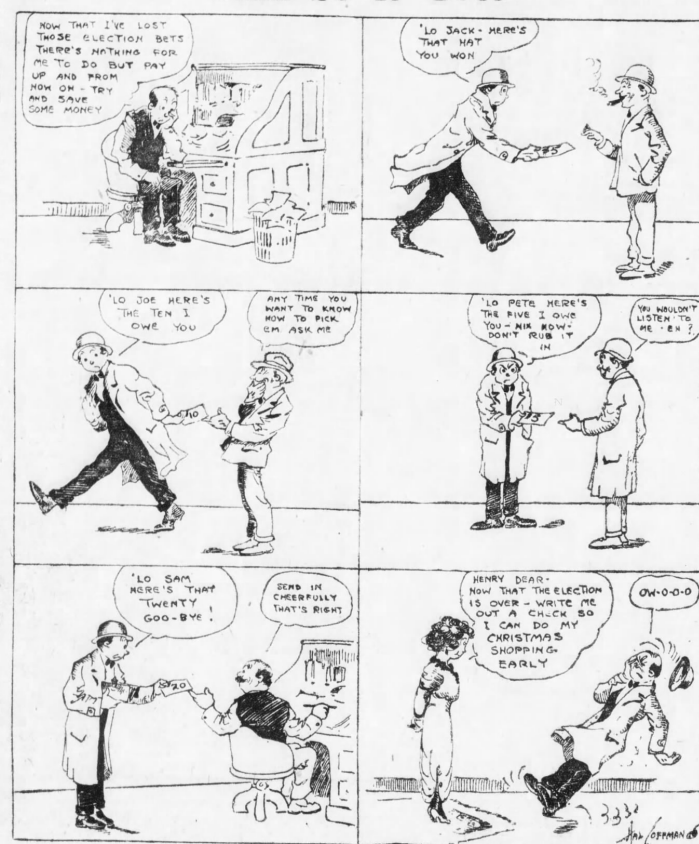

One peculiarly undesirable public school magnate in New York declares shamelessly and impudently that he does not want married teachers to have children, because, says he, "it is indecent and unpleasantly suggestive for them to appear in the schoolroom before the child is born."

Does anyone remember anything more brutal, more worthy of a disreputable savage than THAT expression of opinion?

The fact is that MEN run the schools. And they run those schools for MEN and very largely FOR GRAFT in New York. If a male school teacher gets drunk, or becomes diseased and needs a rest, he can take a rest and then go on with his work. But if a respectable woman, married and teaching in the schools, has a child, SHE MUST BE KICKED OUT.

There is a condition that disgraces the public school management of New York and once more emphasizes the necessity of permitting women to vote.

And So It Goes

Letters From Readers
Of The Georgian

JUDGE BROYLES IS RIGHT.
 Editor The Georgian:

You are right in commending Recorder Broyles for his recent declaration that auto speed mania in the streets of Atlanta will be severely punished in his court. Rockless driving of motor cars in crowded thoroughfares and through residence streets is a menace to life, and should not be tolerated. Judge Broyles has the backing of all good citizens in his campaign against guilty chauffeurs.

AN ATLANTA MOTHER.

THE GOVERNOR AND THE PEOPLE.

When a man is elected Governor, he is a servant of the people. He should go among them and learn at first hand what are their needs. Otherwise, how can he be a real representative of the people? He is supposed to serve the people in taking the right course in voting county fairs in Georgia. At these places he can and does meet the people. He can listen to their needs and he can tell them what he can and will do for them. John M. Stanton is a genuine Democrat. He is close to the people.

A. J. BINDER.

A GOOD DISCUSSION.

Editor The Georgian:

The discussion which has been conducted on the editorial page of The Georgian on the question of jury trials in Georgia is on the right line. There is something wrong with the law or the administration of it, and a full and free discussion of the subject can only result in good. To my mind, we should reject twentieth century methods into the administration of the law. There has been no modern improvement in this branch of the Government. I think the trouble is not with the law or the judges, but with the administration of the law.

By JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES.

THE value of the sea-borne foreign commerce of the United States during the year ending June 30, 1912, was $3,421,470,423. Its value for the year ending June 30, 1911, was $3,773,600,924, a gain in one year of $341,580,501.

The foreign commerce of the United States carried under the American flag in the year 1912 was $222,431,565, or 13.900,000 less than the increased commerce of the United States in a single year.

Which means that the total tonnage under the American flag in 1912 would not have been equal to the carrying of the increase in the foreign commerce alone for the year 1912.

During the year ending June 30, 1912, British vessels increased their carrying of American foreign commerce to the extent of $169,245,475 over the previous year, in which year the gain of British shipping equaled nearly one-half the total foreign commerce carried in American ships for the year 1912.

In the year ending June 30, 1912, British ships carried imports and exports of the United States valued at $1,847,700,865, nearly five times the amount carried in American vessels, and within a slight fraction of being 55 per cent of the foreign commerce carried by sea, and for the year ending June 30, 1911, the value of the foreign commerce of the United States carried in British vessels reached the grand total of $2,044,944,339, again almost 55 per cent of the total sea-borne foreign commerce of the country.

A bare 10 per cent of American foreign commerce was carried in American vessels last year, and we had less tonnage under the American flag in foreign trade than in 1910—more than a century ago.

A hundred years ago, under the benign influence and preferential character of the wise discriminatory legislation adopted by the founders of the republic, American ships carried 99 per cent of American foreign commerce, and during a period of 72 years, from 1789 until 1861, the AVERAGE proportion of the foreign commerce of the United States carried in vessels of the United States was 39 per cent, during 42 years of which period the policy of discriminating tonnage taxes and import duties was in full or in partial force.

PINDELL'S NAME AS ENVOY HELD UP BY WILSON

Letters Sent by J. Ham Lewis Offering Peoria Man Russian Post Investigated.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The nomination of Henry R. Pindell, of Peoria, Ill., to be Ambassador to Russia will not go to the Senate for the present. President Wilson announced this in a letter today.

This is taken to mean that Senators will not be allowed to investigate at the present time the facts revealed in a letter sent by Senator J. Ham Lewis to Mr. Pindell.

To the amazement of his political friends and advisers, Senator Lewis admitted the genuineness of the alleged letter to Pindell offering him the appointment as Ambassador to Russia on condition that he resign the seat on October 1, 1914.

Lewis Tells of Letters.

Although he was shown a dispatch from Peoria in which Pindell was quoted as saying that the letter as published were absolute forgeries and were never received by him, Senator Lewis said:

"The letters are not forgeries. I saw the letters substantially as printed, and Mr. Pindell received them. There were shown from Mr. Pindell's desk in his office in Peoria. Mr. Pindell has known for more than two weeks that the letters were stolen. He came to Washington and told me that he knew who had stolen the letters from his desk. The matter was made well known at the Capitol."

Senator Lewis here offered a new explanation, if not the first explanation, of that phrase in his letter to Pindell where he says, "that if you accept this position I must be with the understanding that you will resign on the 1st of October, 1914."

Why Explanations Was Made.

"The reason I made that explanation," said Senator Lewis, "was that at the time I wrote that letter early in September no one could be appointed Ambassador to Russia for more than one year. The appointment at that time must have been for the unexpired term of Curtis Guild, then Ambassador."

Mr. Guild had been appointed for four years and had still one year to serve. My understanding was that if Mr. Pindell were appointed, he would be regarded as Ambassador for one year, at the end of which time he would be expected, as any gentleman would, to tender his resignation.

Since the letter was written the situation has changed. Mr. Guild's term was terminated in such a way that it is no longer necessary to appoint his successor for an unexpired term."

SEARCHING SIDELIGHTS ON POLITICS IN GEORGIA

By JAMES B. NEVIN.

If Walter F. Andrews agrees to become a candidate for Mayor of Atlanta, there is no doubt whatever that his race will be watched by interested, and in hundreds of cases, entirely sympathetic, eyes all over the State.

There is hardly a better known Atlanta citizen than Walter Andrews. Not only was his circle of acquaintances large before he began taking any sort of active interest in politics, but it has been greatly enlarged since. As one of the managers of President Woodrow Wilson's primary campaign in Georgia, Andrews came in contact daily with scores of Georgians from all sections, and the impression he made upon them invariably seemed to be pleasant.

He devoted a very great deal of his time to the Wilson headquarters, as he does to all matters in which he becomes interested, and it is a sure thing that it would be a Mayor nomination on the job, if in the course of events, he should become the head of the government of Georgia's capital city.

Mr. Andrews, too, has perhaps among the files the very greatest number of friends and well-wishers of any number of that interest in the State. He unquestionably credited among his acquaintances with the highest standard of the Atlanta police. For a time he was district judge of the county, and a member of the State, and is now a member of the United Lodge of the nation.

To be sure, the latter circumstance has nothing whatever to do with politics, but it is a fact that through these high positions in the career of Walter F. Andrews has had opportunity, happily improved, of meeting and knowing after a heart-to-heart fashion a very great number of Georgians.

Whether Mr. Andrews ever makes the race for Mayor of Atlanta, actually, it is a fact that he is temperate, intellectual, every other way entirely equal to the position.

On Saturday the Governor of Georgia received a letter addressed thus: Mr. Slater, Atlanta.

"What do you think of the—why the—?" volunteered Secretary Jesse Perry. And then he laughed and showed it to the Governor, who also had a good laugh at his own expense.

The outcome of the municipal primary to be held in Atlanta on Wednesday is said to be very doubtful at this time as between the "open town" and "closed town" elements, both claiming the victory already won for their candidate.

Both of two to one are reported by some as having an "open town" element of over one hundred votes, as shown by the registration lists. It will require a count of the vote to settle the dispute, evidently.

Governor Slater leaves tonight for Cordeiro, where on Tuesday he will be the special guest of honor at the public celebration of that city's anniversary.

The Governor is on the program of events for the day for an address to the people of Cordeiro and surrounding counties, and Mrs. Slater will deliver an address before a number of women's clubs from Cordeiro and vicinity.

Behind the Governor and Mrs. Slater, a number of the Executive's military staff will accompany him. He expects to return to Atlanta early Wednesday morning, and will be in his office at his Capital for the remainder of the week.

It is daily becoming more and more evident that State-wide prohibition is going to cut a big figure in the next legislative election.

Candidates for the new House are looking up here and there, although the primaries will be months off. The "dry" may be expedited before August.

State-wide prohibition never has been fought out before the people in Georgia, but there are signs a plenty and multiplying every day, seeming to show that it is to be.
